Means and conditions of participating at the General Meeting and exercising voting rights:

At the General Meeting, the shareholder can exercise his/her rights in person or by proxy.

- a) Shareholders participating in person identify themselves with their IDs and prove their shareholder status by means of owners' certificates issued by the custodian that manages their securities accounts. Shareholders present at the General Meeting who are registered in the stock registry but do not hold owners' certificates can participate at the General Meeting but cannot exercise their rights to vote or motion.
- b) Proxies must be made out in the form of public instruments or private instruments with probative force. The proxy must be handed over to the representative of the Board of Directors prior to the commencement of the General Meeting. As to the owners' certificates, the rules set forth in a.) apply.
- c) Custodians managing securities accounts and being registered in the stock registry as shareholder proxies can act on behalf of the shareholder in accordance with the stipulations of Act CXX/2001.

A precondition to exercising voting rights is that the shareholder or the proxy (with the exception of proxies authorized by public instruments or private instruments with probative force) be registered in the stock registry at least six (6) work days prior to the General Meeting (on October 27, 2005 at the latest). Registering the shareholder in the stock registry – upon empowerment by the shareholder -- is the obligation of the custodian. Custodians shall inform the shareholders about the deadline by which they can register in the stock registry. The Company does not accept any responsibility for the actual entry of shareholders in the stock registry by custodians upon the request of the shareholders or the consequences of the custodian's failure to act accordingly.

Let us draw the attention of the shareholders to the fact that registration is between 09:00 and 10:30 am. If shareholders or proxies appear later than the end of the above period, the Company does not accept any responsibility for the shareholder (proxy) not being able to participate for the whole duration of the General Meeting – due to late registry.

In case the General Meeting does not form a quorum, the Board of Directors re-convene the General Meeting repeatedly for 11:00 am on November 08, 2005, to be held at the location defined above, with the original Agenda. The repeated General Meeting forms a quorum irrespective of the number of shareholders present or their voting ratios.
