Magyar Telekom IR shortlisted for two IR Magazine awards

Budapest – June 1, 2016 – Magyar Telekom (Reuters: MTEL.BU and Bloomberg: MTELEKOM HB, hereinafter the “Company”), the leading Hungarian telecommunications service provider, is delighted to announce that it has been short-listed for two awards organised by IR Magazine, widely regarded as the hallmark publication for the investor relations profession, renowned for the high quality of its insights and global perspectives.

The two awards that Magyar Telekom has been nominated for are:

- 1 Best IR in Central and Eastern Europe
- 2 Best IR in the sector: Communications

The IR Magazine awards are bestowed annually to companies from across Europe in recognition of the quality and professionalism of their relations with the capital markets. Dissimilar to most other awards, these awards are wholly independent as companies receive votes directly from the audience that matters the most, the analyst and investors themselves; as such, they carry significant prestige.

The winners of the IR Magazine Awards - Europe 2016 will be announced at an evening event in London on June 22, 2016, which Magyar Telekom will be attending.

Christopher Mattheisen, CEO commented: “For Magyar Telekom to be nominated by the investment community for these awards is such a great honor. We take our relationships with the markets extremely seriously and so to receive this level of recognition is hugely gratifying and testimony to our ongoing efforts to enhance the twin standards of dialogue and engagement.”
